Earl Palm Honored For Community Work

Earl W. Palm, 32, Route 4, today is the community's Outstanding Young man for 1960.

The selection was announced
last night during the Circleville
Junior Chamber of Commerce Awards Banquet at the First EUB Church Service Center. The Second National Bank official was present to accept the honor.

The Distinguished Service Award
to Palm was one phase of a program conducted by the local Jaycees. Additional honors went to John Stevenson, Route 2, named Pickaway County's Outstanding
Young Farmer for 1960.

Sharing honors with Palm and Stevenson were Charles H. Radcliff and Robert Colville. Both were recognized for their long years of public service here.

RADCLIFF was honored for his record 30 consecutive years as sheriff of Pickaway County. Colville was cited for his 26 years as Pickaway County Treasurer. The awards came as surprises to both recipients.

Stevenson, Radcliff and Colville
were presented handsome plaques with appropriate inscriptions. The Young Farmer award was made by Roger May and Dr. Robert Phillips handled the public service
honors.

The three plaque winners received a solid round of applause from the other 116 men present.

Palm, a likeable redhead, was born in Pickaway County July 10, 1928. He is the son of Mr.
and Mrs. Russell C. Palm, Route 4.

The Outstanding Young Man attended elementary school at Washington Twp. and was graduated by Circleville High School in 1946. He attended Ohio State University where he majored in vocational agriculture education and was graduated in 1950 with a bachelor of science degree. Later he completed two years of graduate work in business administration at Ohio University.

In 1951, Palm took time out from his studies at Ohio University to marry Jeanne Renick. They now have five children, Jeffrey, Cyn-

Pirate Chief, Admiral Open Talks at Sea

Conference Deals
With Plans To Free
Passengers on Liner

RECIFE, Brazil (AP)—A U. S.
admiral met Portuguese rebel Capt. Henrique Galvao at sea today in a conference that could mean swift freedom for the nearly 600 passengers aboard the captive liner Santa Maria.

Atlantic Fleet headquarters in Norfolk, Va., announced the rendezvous of Rear Adm. Allen E.
Smith Jr., and Galvao who seized
the $16.6 million ship Jan. 22.

Smith said later his first talks with Galvao were "in general good." In a report to fleet headquarters the admiral quoted Gal-vao as saying he believes the new Brazilian administration taking office today will permit the Santa Maria to enter Recife Wednesday.

Smith, the Navy's Caribbean
commander, sped out from Recife
at daybreak aboard the U. S. destroyer Gearing to a point about 35 miles offshore where Galvao waited for the inauguration today
of a new Brazilian president who has informally offered him and the ship safe haven.

The Navy announced the admiral went aboard the Santa Maria at 6:50 a. m. This conformed to original plans. It was reported here Monday night that Galvao
had asked that the meeting be held on the destroyer.

The Gearing halted about 500
yards from the Santa Maria and Smith and his party, including two American diplomats posted in Brazil, made the crossing in a motor whaleboat.

A Recife tug carried 61 newsmen to the area, but was requested by the Navy to keep some distance away so as not to impede the Navy's operations.

The U. S. destroyer Damato
was also on hand and two others,
the destroyers Wilson and Vogel-sang, were expected to join forces with her and the Gearing.

From the Santa Maria, Galvao
messaged a Brazilian friend that he hoped to enter Recife today.

The rebel leader's message was directed by Gov. Carlos La-cerda of Guanabara Stt who is in Brasilia, Brazil's new capital.
Quadros was taking over Brazil's government from the administration of President Juscelino Kubitschek, who had threatened to return the liner to its owners, the Portuguese Colonial Navigation Co.

"I hope to enter Recife on the same solemn day that Brazil ini-tiates a new era headed by your admirable and honored President," Galvao said.

Lacerda earlier told newsmen
in Brasilia he expected Galvao
would be given 24 hours to de-bark the passengers, refuel and depart again for the high seas.
If he seeks asylum, Lacerda said,
it will be granted, but the ship
probably would then be returned to its owners.

The liner Vera Cruz, a sister ship of the Santa Maria, decided to bypass Recife on her voyage
back to Lisbon from Rio de Janeiro. It was announced the ship, carrying a security guard of Portuguese secret police, will head
for Lisbon directly from Salvador, 400 miles down the coast from Recife.

The Smith-Galvao meeting
came 55 miles southeast of Recife
and about 35 miles off the Brazilian bulge below this city.

The admiral's mission was to arrange release of the passengers,
about two score of them Americans, caught up in the seafaring political intrigue. The Navy wanted a landing at Recife so the passengers would not have to undergo a risky transfer at sea.

Escapes Nabbed

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—
Only four of six escapees from the Jefferson County jail here were at large today following the capture of two in Houston, Tex.

Arrested by Houston detectives
Monday were two Jefferson County youths, John Wiley Bucy 18,
of Rt. 1, Mingo Junction, and Daniel Andrew Carpenter, 23, of Adena.

Police said the two were picked up in a stolen car. They then led officers to another car, which they abandoned in Houston after stealing it in Steubenville on Saturday,
the day of the escape. Two autos were reported stolen near the jail
here shortly after the break.

Space Ape Blazes Trail For Yankee Astronauts

GOP Maneuver Aims Slowdown At President

Kennedy's Program
To Bolster Nation's Economy Is Opposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Any chance President Kennedy may have had for a congressional honey-moon vanished today as Republicans maneuvered to slow down
a program he said was needed to reverse an economic downturn.

With some conservative exceptions, Democrats called Kennedy's State of the Union message a realistic challenge to the American people to face up to their problems at home and abroad.

Influential Republicans took sharp issue with the President's contention that the U. S. economy was in serious trouble and needed
immediate corrective measures.

Other GOP members objected strenuously to what they called Kennedy's down-grading of America's position in the world.
Others accused the President of injecting partisanship into the blueprint he drew for the critical days he saw ahead.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Senate GOP leader, signalled
a slowdown by calling for extensive committee hearings on most of the proposals Kennedy said he would submit to Congress in the next two weeks. Dirksen said that if they could, Republicans would see that there would be "no illdigested stuff rushed through Congress."

The Illinois senator said that if Kennedy's recommendations for a

Kennedy Talk Said 'Bracing'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Comment of Sen. Stephen M. Young,
D-Ohio, on President Kennedy's
State of the Union message:

"As bracing as an icy cold shower following years of warm sprinklings of statements that this nation never had it so good."

Europe Press Hails Address By Kennedy

LONDON (AP)—President Kennedy's State of the Union message won wide acclaim in newspapers of Western Europe today.

It even received a kind of pat
on the back in Moscow, where newspapers published up to a half page of excerpts, including Kennedy's outline of areas where U. S.
and Soviet interests conflict.

No Moscow paper gave any reaction or comment to the speech,
but the range of excerpts they published were remarkable. As expected, they included in detail
the President's views on the internal U. S. situation, the dollar problem, the recession and school shortages, as well as his appeal to the Soviet Union for scientific cooperation in outer space.

In general, the Western press expressed the view that the speech had cleared the international air and might serve to rouse the United States from a long sleep.

The London Daily Express headline — "Wake up, Americans!" — was typical.

The independent Die Welt of Hamburg, West Germany commented: "The things Americans were told yesterday about their economy, the dollar, unemployment, and lack of scientific education will produce some grave head-shaking."

"But they will also be able to breathe with relief. Finally they were told how things stand. And since they are realists, they will shift into faster gear."

Rome's independent Il Tempo
declared that "under the guidance of the most typical representative of the young generation,
the United States has passed from defensive and passive resistance to the offensive."

House Approves Larger Rules Panel By Narrow Margin

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House voted Tuesday to enlarge its Rules Committee in an effort to curb the power of a conservative coalition.

The roll-call vote was 217-212.
Voting for the increase were 195
Democrats and 22 Republicans.
Against it were 64 Democrats and 148 Republicans.

WASHINGTON (AP) — House
Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., appeared to have a razor-thin
edge as the House faced a showdown vote today on his plan to enlarge the Rules Committee.

But his apparent hairline margin could vanish before the actual voting gets under way. Last-minute maneuvering plus possible absenteism could swing the decision either way in the vote slated
for early afternoon.

There was a slim outside chance that a showdown might be averted between Rayburn and Rep.

DiSalle Presses His Pet Bills

Once-Defeated Issues
Going Back to Solons

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle is dusting them off again . . . conflict of interest, criminal conspiracy, the utility rate base formula,
capital punishment, a campaign
spending limits.

All the measures—one-time losers already — will be sent back to the legislature for another study,
the governor says. Special messages will accompany each measure.

DiSalle sent the conflict-of-interest message to the Republican-controlled General Assembly Monday night. Republican House
Speaker Roger Cloud of Logan County promised: "We'll put it in committee and give it a whirl."

Both Cloud and Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem, R-Athens, told newsmen they haven't read this year's version of the conflict-of-interest bill which died
in the Senate State Government Committee in 1959 without a hearing.

The governor's message on the measure he confidently predicted will "come someday, maybe when some fresh people will accept it
as part of a campaign for public office" caused scarcely a ripple
as the lawmakers started their fifth work week.

The message was not read aloud
in either house. It was distributed to the desk of each legislator. It will be printed in the Journal of the House. The Senate referred the unread message to its Judiciary Committee without instructions
that it be printed in the Senate journal.

Briefly, the DiSalle proposal would include state officials — elected or appointed—under a present law which prohibits local officials from having any interest in private contracts. It also would prohibit state officials from receiving pay for representing clients before state boards and commissions and would put an effective curb on so-called influence peddling by any state official.

As he said two years ago, the governor's criminal conspiracy measure is aimed at the big shots
of the syndicated criminal world,
those who pull the strings on organized gambling and vice.

In the utility field, DiSalle says
he will have a "very fully back-grounded" message in support of his view that the Utilities Commission in setting utility rates should give equal weight to the present formula — reproduction
cost, less observed depreciation (generally known as RCN)—
and a "fair value" formula.

At least two other special messages will deal with the governor's opposition to capital punishment
and his belief that state law should set limits on spending in political campaigns.

Rocket Zooms 100 Miles Up

37 1/4-Pound Chimp
Is Test Passenger

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—
The United States successfully rocketed a chimpanzee-manned
space capsule more than 100 miles
into space today and dropped it in the Atlantic Ocean 420 miles down range.

The capsule overshoot its intended target by 130 miles, indicating that the Redstone booster rocket
had not performed as planned.

Ships, planes and helicopters raced to attempt recovery of the one-ton space chamber and its passenger, a 37-pound male primate designated simply No. 65.

The majority of the recovery forces were stationed in the intended impact area 290 miles down range. But other craft were placed on both near and far sides
of the mark in case the capsule missed it.

A 63-foot parachute was to pop out near the end of the flight and drop the one-ton, bell-shaped capsule gently into the waves.

The capsule also was equipped with a dye marker, radio beacon,
flashing light and underwater
bomb to make sure that the capsule and its passenger were found.

Carefully trained for this venture, the chimp was to punch
various levers during the jolting 16-minute ride to show its reactions to the blast-off, the five minutes of eerie weightlessness,
and re-entry into the atmosphere.

A similar Project Mercury capsule, empty except for instruments, was fired into the same general area last Dec. 19 and was recovered by a waiting ship in 48
minutes. It was not damaged.

The space chimp wore a nylon suit and was strapped in a pre-saturated cococon-like plastic couch
which was fastened to the floor of the space capsule. A clear plastic face plate on the couch enabled the ape to see what went on around him.

Only his head and arms were free to move. Electronic devices were attached to the body to measure heart beat, body temperature, respiration and task performance.

The launching was a crucial forerunner of a plan to send an American astronaut on a similar ride into space, hopefully within two months.

The 60-foot rocket blasted off at 11:55 a. m. and roared away at a speed of 4,200 miles an hour.

The 37-pound male ape
grinned and waved his arms when he was placed in the capsule at 6 a. m. Observers said "he seemed at ease about the whole thing."

Medical men picked him Monday from a group of four males
and two females who had been trained for the job. The choice was based on his physical condi-

New 'Exposition' Group Is Proposed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An
"exposition commission" — in charge of all events at the Ohio State Fairgrounds—will be proposed to the Ohio legislature soon.

The proposed commission would have 15 members, not more than nine of them from any one major political party.

Agriculture Director Robert H.
Terhune and State Fair Manager
Rowland Bishop were among those attending a meeting called by the Ohio Farm Bureau Monday. At the meeting, a committee was appointed to draft the proposal.

The proposed commission would
be established to get the greatest use possible out of the fairgrounds
for a variety of expositions, including the state fair.

Coast Guard Academy Said Open to Negroes

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP) —
The U. S. Coast Guard Academy says its doors are open to any qualified Negro.

Rear Adm. Stephen H. Evans,
the school's superintendent, said
Monday night there was no requirement in its admissions regulations that would bar a Negro or any other qualified U. S. citizen.

Evans' comment was in response to a report Monday that President Kennedy was concerned that there were no Negroes in the academy's present class of cadets.

Khrush Books Trip to U.N.

Talk with Kennedy
Is Held Possible

WASHINGTON (AP) — Communist sources say Soviet Premier Khrushchev plans to be in the United States for the United Nations session in March and it is up to President Kennedy whether the two will meet.

Khrushchev himself is represented as agreeable to a meeting.

Word of Khrushchev's intentions
and attitude was brought to Washington Monday by Communist diplomats attached to the United Nations. They said they got it from Moscow.

The General Assembly reconvenes March 7. The sources said Khrushchev intends to be there for one week.

The Communist diplomat said
their information is that Khrushchev would be willing to go into either a highly informal get-acquainted session with Kennedy, or to sit down with him for very extensive talks. They reported his tentative plans do not extend to any travel outside of New York.

The sources said the decision on any sort of meeting, and on the circumstances as well, would be a matter for Kennedy.

Kennedy was asked at his news conference last week about the prospects for a meeting with Khrushchev.

"There are no plans at the present time for a meeting with Mr.
Khrushchev," the President replied, but newsmen noted that he had not foreclosed the possibility of different plans at any later time.

News Conference Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy will hold his second news conference Wednesday at 4 p. m. EST. He meets with the National Security Council at 10
a. m.

Lighted Porches To Signal Mothers' March Here Tonight

Lighted porches will signal the annual Mothers' March against polio and crippling diseases here tonight.

Mrs. Betty Lou Koch, directing the Mothers' March, and her corps of captains and workers will canvass the city for donations. Similar efforts will be made in the county.

All money will go to the New March of Dimes campaign against dreaded diseases. The funds are used in many ways in this constant fight for better health.

David Crawford, local campaign
director, said much of the money is used for hospital treatment of local children and adults stricken with polio and other diseases. He said additional money goes toward medical research which constantly seeks new preventive measures
for these ailments.

HE said classic examples of interest research are the Salk and Sabin vaccines now available for the fight against polio. March of Dimes funds were instrumental in the development of both.

Tonight's effort by Mrs. Koch and her group represents one of the largest projects conducted by the Pickaway County Chapter
during its January New March of Dimes campaign. Next week the chapter will conclude its drive by sponsoring a Faculty Basketball Tournament involving the school districts in Circleville and Pickaway County.

Director Crawford said the money gathered tonight will be collected and counted in the basement of Benny's Court and Main Restaurant. All group captains are requested to bring their money
to the basement headquarters starting around 8 p. m.

Airport Aide Held For Bomb Hoax

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 20-year-old airport fireman was to be arraigned today before U. S. Commissioner H. A. Horn on a charge of telephoning a false report of a bomb aboard an airplane.

The FBI arrested Thomas L.
Miller and said he admitted making 13 such bomb hoax calls since Nov. 15 to the Cleveland Fire Department. His arrest Monday ended an intensive, month-long investigation.

An Airport spokesman said Miller,
as part of his job at Cleveland Hopkins Airport, would race
to the scene in an airport fire engine on each bomb search.

"I just had the urge," Miller
was quoted by FBI agents as saying. "I'm sorry if I caused any trouble."

'Long-Term' Foreign Aid Idea Lauded

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J.
William Fulbright, D-Ark., gave his strong backing today to President Kennedy's program for putting the massive foreign aid program "on a long-term basis."

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, voiced hope Kennedy's realistic
description of the state of "our military strength and our declining influence in the world" would be taken seriously by Congress and the country.

The President did not spell out details of the foreign aid program
he will submit to Congress or give any estimate of the funds he will seek.

But he warned the nation that
the response to the problem of building and strengthening the non-Communist world must be as "towering and unprecedented" as the problems are "towering and unprecedented."

Fulbright, in a statement today,
called the message a "general
plan for action."

Kennedy, as a senator, supported Fulbright's efforts two years ago to put the Development Loan Fund on a five-year basis with financing provided by loans from the Treasury.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower turned thumbs down on the proposal, preferring to seek direct appropriations from Congress for shorter periods.

$12 Million Said Needed For Ohio Air Projects

WASHINGTON (AP) — Additional federal funds in the amount of $12,829,350 are needed for Ohio
airport projects between next July 1 and June 30, 1965, a survey
by three aviation groups shows.
The groups are the Airport Operators Council, the American Association of Airport Executives and the National Association of State Aviation Officials.

GOP Maneuver

food for peace program, establishment of a peace corps and a conservation corps and aid for distressed areas all were accepted by Congress, budget balancing would go down the drain.

Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., Republican national chairman, said Kennedy's address, delivered to a joint session of Congress Monday, "echoes the cynical brashness" of his presidential campaign.

"At the same time," Morton said, the speech "blends it with timidity and excessive caution."

Morton said there was no need for America "to face the world at large with a national countenance steeped in gloom and doubt."

Morton also questioned how Kennedy intended to remain within the budget presented by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and also provide strong defenses, hospitals, aid to education, medical care for the aged and expanded foreign aid programs.

Morton's remarks were in a statement issued through the Republican National Committee.

Morton's initial reaction on Capitol Hill to Kennedy's address was in a different vein. He said then that, on the whole, Kennedy had "made a frank and forthright statement of the situation."

Morton added, however, that he thought the President's analysis of the domestic situation was too black and "too negative."

Democratic leaders made it clear they would push for speedy enactment of Kennedy programs despite Republican opposition and some possible desertions from Democratic ranks.

Republicans, who make up roughly one-third of the membership of each house, could not by themselves halt Kennedy's program. But there was every sign that their traditional allies, Southern Democratic conservatives, would be at their side fighting against many Kennedy spending proposals.

Firemen Get Three Calls

The Circleville Fire Department answered three calls here yesterday and today.

Most serious of the three came at 1:15 a. m. today when the department was summoned to the Wilson Trailer Court near Washington and East Sts. An empty house trailer was aflame.

Firemen said damage to the vacated trailer, owned by Mary Montgomery of Ashville, amounted to about $350. Chief Talmer Wise said the cause was not determined.

The chief said the trailer had been empty about 10 days. He said an investigation would continue today.

AT 8:45 A. M. yesterday, the department was called to the home of Betty Karr, 424 Stella Ave., to check a smoking washer. No damage was reported.

Another call was received at 7:15 p. m. yesterday when a deep fryer, at the home of Mrs. Ruth Frazier, 334 E. Main St., became overheated. Chief Wise said the kitchen area near the fryer was damaged.

Lawsuit Seeks Stock Transfer

A lawsuit was filed yesterday in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court requesting the transfer of certain stocks and securities back into the estate of Jessie M. Bitzer, who died January 5.

Plaintiffs in the court action are Nolan D. Bitzer, Columbus; William Bitzer, Route 1; Marie M. Bates, Columbus all children of the deceased; Phillip Judy, Route 1, Laurelville, and Joanne Judy, Columbus, grandchildren of the deceased.

Florence Ann Jury, 314 N. Court St., is the defendant.

The plaintiffs allege that they are the next of kin and heirs under the last will and testament of the deceased. They state in the petition that until August 12, 1960, the decedent, Jessie M. Bitzer, owned approximately 130 shares of the BancOhio Corporation, Columbus.

ON that date the 130 shares of stock, valued at $12,000, was transferred to Florence A. Jury. The petition states: "The defendant prevailed upon the decedent by exercising undue influence, coercion and fraud and caused the decedent to execute the assignment of the 130 shares of stock to the defendant."

Plaintiffs say that "prior to her death, the decedent had been ill for a number of years suffering from cancer and the defendant prevailed upon the decedent to move into the home of the defendant."

Plaintiffs further state: "The defendant administered excessive amounts of narcotics to the decedent; that she was warned of the fact by the attending physician and that she continued to administer excessive amounts of narcotics; that she used undue influence, consisting of promises, threats and pressure of every kind to cause the transfer of the 130 shares of stock."

The plaintiffs are requesting that the stock be set aside and declared void and be held in trust for the children and heirs or that the stocks and securities be sold and the proceeds divided among the heirs.

Charles A. Rosenberry, Jr., Columbus attorney, represents the plaintiffs of the lawsuit.

Man in Court On Theft Count

Harold R. Horn, 51, New Rome, was cited into Circleville Municipal Court today to face an accusation of taking an electrical drill from the Sears Roebuck firm here.

Horn was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 10 days in jail. The fine and jail term were suspended.

The defendant was arrested by city police. Value of the drill was set at $20.

Remodeling Starts At Jail Office

Remodeling work was in progress today at the Pickaway County Jail office on W. Franklin St. Deputy Alva Boyer and assistants of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, said they were told to return today for final processing.

The 75 were among 215 passengers on the 10,000-ton cruise ship which left Havana Friday. Many told stories of narrow escape.

The first reaction of the immigration service was to reject the pleas for asylum, on grounds that the travelers were able to continue to Spain, their original destination.

Esperdy said the Spanish government already had granted them visas and thus had provided sanctuary. Exceptions were being made for those with close family ties in this country.

New Orleans was founded in 1718 and named in honor of the Duke of Orleans.

Rocket Zooms

The slender, 83-foot Redstone soared smoothly from its pad, a bright trail of flame tracing its course as it raced across a clear blue sky. As the hot rocket penetrated the cold layer of air in the upper atmosphere, a puffy white contrail appeared in its wake.

Cape observers saw what appeared to be capsule separation about 140 seconds after launch at an altitude of approximately 35 miles.

Six of the seven U. S. astronauts were here for the vital test. The seventh, Virgil Grissom, was in St. Louis in connection with Project Mercury business.

Mounted within the chimp's view was a three-light panel, one red, one white, one blue. Two levers were at the base of the panel.

The red light was to be on throughout the trip. The chimp is trained to push the right lever at least once every 20 seconds when he sees it. If 20 seconds pass without a hit, he receives a slight electric shock.

Every two minutes the blue light will blink on for five seconds. If the animal does not punch the left lever in this five-second period he gets a shock. The white light flashes on whenever he strikes a lever, telling him he is responding correctly.

Cincy Police Check Youth's Confession

CINCINNATI (AP)— Detectives went to work today to learn the extent of admission by a Negro youth, age 16, in a series of attacks on white women in the Cincinnati area.

The juvenile was arrested at Good Samaritan Hospital Monday night after a young hospital volunteer worker was raped at knife-point in a storeroom.

Police said the youth admitted the rape and other attacks, including the knifing of Virginia Westerbeck, 18, in a rest room in Central High School last summer.

The Westerbeck girl's injury caused an outcry urging tighter security for pupils in city schools. Detectives said he also admitted forcing a Cincinnati woman to disrobe in her home last Nov. 30, and threatened a young mother with a knife in the hallway of a building Dec. 16.

Police said they want to question him about other incidents in Cincinnati before charges are filed.

Police arrested the tall, thin juvenile at the hospital and said a knife was in his possession. A high school junior, he had been working as a dishwasher at the hospital at night for about five months.

75 Cubans To Hear U.S. Asylum Policy

NEW YORK (AP) — Seventy-five Cubans, granted temporary asylum by the United States, may find out today whether they can remain in this country.

The group of men, women and children arrived here Monday aboard the Spanish ship Covadonga. They were allowed to land "on parole, pending complete investigation" after hours of screening by immigration officials who checked with superiors in Washington.

They quickly spread among friends and various Cuban organizations which housed them.

Peter Esperdy, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, said they were told to return today for final processing.

The 75 were among 215 passengers on the 10,000-ton cruise ship which left Havana Friday. Many told stories of narrow escape.

The first reaction of the immigration service was to reject the pleas for asylum, on grounds that the travelers were able to continue to Spain, their original destination.

The DSA winner is a member of Circleville Rotary Club and in 1960 served as program chairman and as a member of the board of directors.

A long list of activities mark Palm's quiet and unassuming contributions to betterment of the community. The many people working with him attest to his interest and enthusiasm in getting jobs done.

His services to the community in 1960 include: chairman of business division of the Pickaway County Community Fund campaign; chairman of Circleville Twp. blood recruitment program; finance chairman for Pickaway District Boy Scouts of America; 2nd vice president and trustee of the Pickaway County Community Fund; and a member of the Pickaway County Agricultural Extension Advisory Committee.

THE outstanding citizen is a member of the Pontius EUB Church, Delta Theta Sigma professional fraternity, Pickaway Lodge No. 23 Free and Accepted Masons, Chapter Council and Commandery of York Rite Masons and 32-Jegree mason, member of Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite, Valley of Columbus.

The banquet's climatic presentation to Palm was made by James Carr, last year's Distinguished Service Award winner. He delivered a clear and concise chronology on the new recipient.

Carr's announcement of Palm as the winner was received by a standing ovation from all present.

The Jaycees award is made here each year to an outstanding man between the ages of 21 and 35. The selection is made on the basis of leadership and service and personal and business progress. A panel of judges carefully screens all applicants.

Also on the agenda last night was special recognition to many employers of this area. They were guests of the Jaycees as bosses who have a vital part in community progress.

Another highlight was an emphatic talk by Gene L. Keener, executive director of the Galion Chamber of Commerce. His address centered on "Community and Industrial Development" in Ohio.

KEENER touched home with several strong points in his forceful talk. He reminded that communities must not be smug and complacent about progress.

The speaker noted that cities throughout the nation are competing for industrial expansion. His advice was for the citizenry of a community to be willing to tackle problems in development on the strength of a strong development program.

Keener pointed out that communities must honor and recognize industries they already have and give similar recognition to working forces. He cited Galion as a city which has made much progress in these efforts.

The Galion Chamber executive emphasized the need for sound school systems, adequate housing facilities and the human resource of skilled labor. He said all are prime objectives for industries seeking to expand.

Keener left the group with six points to remember concerning a development program. They are: 1. seek industry which provides attractive employment. 2. seek industry which provides opportunity for advancement. 3. have adequate housing facilities. 4. have sound school and youth activities programs. 5. have alert, aggressive, retail merchants. 6. develop a good community attitude.

Serving on the Jaycees Distinguished Service Award committee, under President Laurence Priest, were: Chairman William A. Stout, Robert Swackhammer, Dwight Radcliff, Donald Crist, Edgar Webb, John Fissell, William Speakman, Richard Koch, Richard Fullen, Bill Merchant, Bill Mortimer and Robert Phillips.

THE Outstanding farmer committee included Chairman Frank Bowling Jr., Jim Mace, Paul Marshall, Nelson Stevens and Lester Smith. Bosses' Night activities were handled by Chairman Charles Allton and Bill Merchant.

Donald Hill served as chairman for the complete awards banquet.

An Escape Door Closed

Another door to escape from reality was closed with the signing of an extradition treaty between the United States and Brazil. In the past, because extradition from Brazil was not possible, the country became a romanticized refuge for Americans in trouble with the law but itching for freedom.

Who has not dreamed of making the big haul and flying down to Rio? But this is not an age for freebooters in the old mold. Today's soldier of fortune wears a business suit and manipulates uranium stocks. A South Seas wanderer today would run afoul of the atomic testing grounds, United Nations protectorates, and customs officers with rubber stamps, instead of sinuous native girls and noble savages.

Familiarity breeds contempt, and by shrinking the world to a small and rather moldy walnut, we have become too familiar with all of it. Trouble in Indo-China or

Kashmir is no longer the stuff of adventurous dreams. It spawns an investigating team of sanitary, inoculated UN officials, or a mission of U. S. military forces authorized by official orders. No more banging around in the bush on your own; the State Department revokes your passport.

An hour or so of piped-in television adventure each night, with time out for sandwiches during the commercials, is a pallid substitute.

Courtin' Main

It used to cost 35 cents to see a movie. Now you can see the same movie on your TV set for 400 dollars.

What Is True 'Success'?

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Success takes all the fun out of life for some people.

It turns them sour and gives them a grudge against the world. Stardom has worked the other way for Jack Lemmon, who last year became one of the top ten film boxoffice draws. He still gets a huge kick out of his rise to celebrity status, but isn't overly impressed with it.

Jack came here for a brief fun ride on the Manhattan roller-coaster after completing his latest movie comedy role in "The Wackiest Ship in the Army."

Asked if success had made any drastic change in his life, Lemmon, who happens to come from a wealthy Boston family, made a mock grimace and said: "Success is a very tricky word. It is already some one else's opinion of you—and not your own."

"A man who makes a million dollars isn't really a success in his own eyes unless he feels happy and fulfilled."

"You have to do things to fill your own needs—if you want to stay healthy."

At 35 the slender, dark-haired actor still admits to a couple of repressed desires, neither of which, however, is exactly making him miserable.

He'd like to write a hit song, and he'd like to appear in a hit Broadway play.

Jack loves what he calls "piano doodling," and the result is some 400 unpublished tunes.

Jack's two stabs at Broadway fame have been almost as unsuccessful as his songs. His most recent play, "Face of a Hero," folded after seven weeks. But he wants to try again next year.

"No one blames you personally if a stage play flops," he said. "It isn't a career handicap. And, anyway, it's good to get out of lotusland for a while."

"When you're on the stage and fluff a line, there's nobody to say, 'That's okay, let's do it again, Charlie.'"

"You've got to make it alone—and that's good for you."

"If you've been used to working in the movies, doing a sustained role in a Broadway play is like going into a gym and working out."

"It gets an actor back into shape, as training does an athlete. It doesn't matter whether the play hits or misses. He has been helped."

Lemmon isn't exactly dazzled by his present ranking as a big-money comedy film star.

"It means one thing—that I now can go to the bank and get money for another picture," he said.

Here's Jack's own capsule philosophy of living:

"Be happy in yourself. Pick the field you like best, and work at your peak ability. If it's only laying bricks, lay them as best you can—and you can't really lose."

A very relaxing man, and good company—on or off the screen.

FDR Jr. Hasn't Good Chance

By George Sokolsky

Two small political problems excite Washington as much as the big ones of world-wide significance. They are New York and California in 1962.

In New York State, the Democrats have not yet come up with a suitable candidate to defeat Governor Nelson Rockefeller for governor. In California, Governor Pat Brown has lost much of his popularity and the Democrats fear that Richard Nixon might run for governor and be elected.

The New York situation is particularly interesting for, if Governor Rockefeller is re-elected in 1962, he will, beyond doubt, be a candidate for the Presidency in 1964. The Democratic Party in New York State is so broken into factions that it is doubtful that there is time between now and 1962 to rebuild the party.

The violent attacks on Carmine De Sapio have definitely weakened his political influence, but De Sapio's weakness has added no strength to Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt or Governor Lehman who as prospective Tammany bosses are in grotesque role.

Instead, Representative Charles Buckley has emerged as the effective power among the New York City Democrats and Buckley has more political sense than anyone who comes out of Washington to handle this very complex picture.

Before anything can really be done about 1962, a mayor has to be elected in 1961. If Mayor Wagner runs again, he will probably be elected, although it has been known in these parts that when Tammany has been thwarted, it delicately cuts the throat of the thwarted.

The Republicans have no candidate. They talk about Fusion but there is no one to fuse with. The only advantage of the word, Fusion, for the Republicans is that they thus find justification for running a Democrat on the Republican ticket. If not a Democrat, an opportunist like the late Fiorello La Guardia who belongs to everything at the same time.

If Wagner is elected, he might run for governor against Rockefeller. It is suggested that the Kennedys like Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., for governor.

Such rumors could be false. If true, they add up to political nonsense because in the present split character of the Democrats, the name Roosevelt calls forth imprecations upon mother and son alike. Organization men prefer not to deal with them.

Kennedy carried New York State by the support of the Liberal Party, a Socialist-trade union party which normally supports Democrats. It is impossible to believe that the leaders of the Liberal Party, Alex Rose, David Dubinsky and A. A. Berle, Jr., would prefer Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., to Nelson Rockefeller. Nor is it believable that Adam Clayton Powell, Jr. who presently controls the Negro vote, would prefer young Roosevelt to Rockefeller.

Therefore, the problem that the Kennedys still face if they want to eliminate Nelson Rockefeller in 1962 is to defeat him for governor in 1962. Nobody can be defeated with nobody and thus far no name has been presented which will be acceptable to the Democrats of this state, or the Liberal Party or most of the voters.

Whoever gave the impression that the Kennedys wanted Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. to run for governor of New York State was not politically wise. He has made that recordless mean a target for opposition and attack a year too early. He has no forum to defend himself. He has been told formally that he cannot be appointed to the State Department position to which he was named. He is better off not to be, as, considering all our difficulties with Cuba, the Dominican Republic, Brazil, Venezuela, whoever is in charge, always gets blamed for unfavorable results, even if errors were an act of God—as the insurance policy reads.

On the other hand, if Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. does not take a job, what is he to do? It is tough being a son of an ex-President unless one has a profession. Robert A. Taft went into the United States Senate and made a career for himself, so that a monument stands for him in Washington. The odorous Roosevelt's sons did mighty well by their country but not in politics.

Woodrow Wilson and Harry Truman had daughters. Herbert Hoover's sons stuck to engineering and business. But Franklin D. Roosevelt's children have a penchant for politics but it is always difficult for a son to walk in the shoes of his father although John Quincy Adams did it.

The Government of Nepal seeks to borrow 50 elephants from India to take part in a reception for Britain's Queen Elizabeth during her visit there. Big deal!

TRAVELING BY TRAIN recently from West Palm Beach in Florida, I sought out a porter when my connection was a full hour overdue. "I know this train originates in Miami," I said, "Will you tell me how it can lose an hour in something like seventy miles?" "That's easy, mister," explained the unperturbed porter. "It hasn't left Miami yet."

I made one last protest. "On your bulletin board," I pointed out, "this train is distinctly marked 'O. T.'"

"Hell's bells, mister," chuckled the porter. "'O. T.' doesn't mean 'On Time.' It only means that the train is still 'on the track.'"

I made the return trip by plane.

NEW YORK (AP)—CBS' abrupt cancellation of Circle Theatre's "The Spy Next Door," the fiction-based-on-fact drama originally scheduled for Wednesday night, may relate to an incident which took place almost two and one-half years ago.

On Sept. 25, 1958, CBS' Playhouse 90 presented a drama called "The Plot to Kill Stalin." In it, a character named Khrushchev was shown preventing an aide from giving the ailing Soviet premier medicine needed to save his life.

A few days later, Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov called a Washington news conference at which he announced he had lodged an official protest about the show and called the program "a filthy slander."

The cancelled Circle Theatre program written by Jerry Ross, was proclaimed to be frankly fiction, but based on cases of Soviet espionage uncovered in this country. With a modest improvement in the climate surrounding U.S.-Soviet relationships, evidenced by release of the RB47 flyers, it would not be surprising if CBS took the drastic step to avoid any possible diplomatic repercussions now.

However, the situation highlights another one of those insoluble headaches brought about by the very popularity of television: a fast-growing shortage of potential villains.

During the last war, motion pictures and radio (TV was not in the picture then) were able to go all out making our enemies, Germany and Japan, the black hats in their espionage and adventure stories, and nobody minded how dark they were painted. However, in the delicate cold-war situation, it apparently is unwise to point a dramatic finger directly at a real nation. Maybe the writers will have to call it Country X. And there's always Ruritania.

$400 Million Building Deal To Brighten Blighted Area

CLEVELAND (AP)—This town is getting set to launch Erieview, an ambitious project which city officials visualize as giving Cleveland eventually a new face and perhaps even a new character.

The project is big. The value of property to be taken over for razing near the heart of the business district alone is a sizable figure—$26 million is the estimate of urban renewal authorities.

Of 250 buildings in the blighted area, 239 are scheduled for razing, including some fairly solid office and industrial buildings as well as ramshackle residences.

In place of these structures is to rise a complex of apartment buildings, office buildings, plazas and parkland. To make this dream come true, some $400 million in private investment will be needed over the next decade.

James M. Lester, Cleveland redevelopment director, says he has had expressions of interest from several builders concerning a large percentage of buildings planned in the first step of Erieview. The first step, covering an area generally west of East 14th Street to East 9th Street and from Memorial Shoreway to Chester Avenue, is expected to require considerably more investment than the second step.

One prospective builder, John Galbreath, Columbus real estate developer, promised several months ago to put up a 30-story office and apartment building at the southeast corner of East 9th and St. Clair. Galbreath has said announcement of that plan aroused so much interest from potential users he is ready to invest in two such structures in the Erieview project.

Total investment by the city would be about $5 million, with the federal government putting up about twice that much.

Cleveland voters started the ball rolling last November when they approved issuance of $3 million worth of bonds for urban renewal projects.

The Federal Housing and Home Financing Agency this week approved a loan-and-grant of $10,680,000 for Erieview.

The government already has made cash advances, and Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze has lined up a team of appraisers. The mayor hopes to begin buying property by March 15 and to start demolishing buildings by May 1.

The federal government will guarantee loans up to $33.8 million for buying property. After the land has been cleared it will be auctioned to developers.

Erieview, big as it is, is only one facet of Cleveland's revitalization program. Another rebuilding project is under way for an area near University Circle on the East Side, where more than 1,000 parcels of land are to be acquired by the city.

In addition to funds for urban renewal, bond issues approved last fall will provide $10 million for expansion of exhibit space at Public Auditorium and $4 million for improvements to the Harbor and Burke Lakefront Airport.

The lakefront developments, tied in with the East 9th Street skyscraper, apartment buildings and a park on stilts extending over the lakefront railroad tracks "will give us an attractive gateway to downtown," says Lister.

But the redevelopment director is most interested in seeing "the effect that the luxury apartments will have on the whole of downtown. I expect you will see a lot of fine new restaurants and entertainment places. I believe downtown stores will be dressed up."

"You will see downtown become sophisticated, an exciting place to come to."

"You will see downtown become sophisticated, an exciting place to come to."

The plan developed by Chicago

Architect I. M. Pei calls for a skyscraper office building not more than 40 stories high at the East 9th Street-St. Clair Avenue location, and two clusters of apartment houses not more than 30 stories high.

A third apartment building, not more than 20 stories high, would be at East 12th and Superior. One-room efficiency apartments, with rents starting at about $110, are planned along with the luxury suites.

A mall starting between the two newspaper buildings now located at Lakeside Avenue would run southward into the apartment area. To the north would be the park on stilts, extending over the railroad tracks and providing underground parking.

Residential apartments are planned for the second phase of Erieview in the area from East 14th to 17th and north of Chester. In addition to office buildings and apartments, the plan would include retail stores and a small school.

While Erieview has generated considerable enthusiasm, there has been some scepticism too. A representative of the operators of several downtown buildings warned at public hearings last fall that going too fast on Erieview might force 50 office buildings out of business in the next 10 to 15 years. This would have the effect of turning Euclid avenue, Cleveland's main street, into a slum area, warned Henry H. Eccles, executive vice president of the Cleveland Association of Building Owners and Managers.

Supporters of the plan say, however, that the Erieview development could generate millions of dollars worth of business in the downtown area.

Whatever your view of Erieview there is no question that it is big. And, as 43 families and 429 businesses facing eviction from the area must realize, it's on the way.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—The very grimmest of President Kennedy's view of the state of the economy could give business a lift.

This seeming paradox lies in the response that Wall Street and business planners often take to any indication that Washington is about to loosen further the government purse strings.

And they figure that is the President thinks business is that bad at home and defense needs that urgent, he'll lend an ear to advocates of more spending.

After their first reaction to the President's State of the Union message, stock traders might well take the view that certain industries are bound to be getting new orders soon, that new money will be finding its way into the pockets of the unemployed and others, that various other spending schemes will be pushed.

Such programs usually take a time to be turned into actual money in the till, but the prospect of their approach could give a new outlook on business prospects to many who have been waiting to see just what the new administration would do.

President Kennedy says flatly we've been in a recession since mid 1960. And he thinks the recovery from the 1958 recession it isn't very convincing. All of which, he says, calls for government action which he'll spell out in coming days.

At the same time, however, he pledges to keep the dollar sound. Just how he proposes to do both—push government pump priming and avoid further inflation—he promises to outline later.

Business already had taken note of the sizable jump in government expenditures proposed in the 1962 fiscal budget offered by outgoing resident Eisenhower. And businessmen are well aware that Kennedy's advisers are urging plans that would call for still larger spending.

The Wall Street bulls have tentatively started pawing the ground. Businessmen—both Democrats and Republicans—could take the same attitude as to the probable effect on the economy of the State of the Union views. Democrats, along with most labor leaders, will say it's about time Washington admitted business conditions needed a helping hand. Republicans, although doubtless thinking the pump priming unnecessary, will see it as threatening more inflation—the end result being business stimulation, however unhealthy.

The conservative view of present business conditions differs materially from Kennedy's. It holds with President Eisenhower that most of the current troubles are due to cutbacks in inven-

ories. It stresses that final demand is sustained—that is, consumption of goods is at about the same pace as this to last year. Factories and merchants just aren't laying in stocks.

Public Notice A Vital Right

By JAMES E. POLLARD

(Copyright)

Down the ages the tax gatherer has never been particularly popular. There is probably nothing personal in this. But the traditional attitude of the taxpayer doubtless stems from the onerous nature of the tax collector's job.

Taxes, both federal and local, must be gathered regularly and promptly or government with all of its varied functions would be in danger of collapse. Quickly the public itself would suffer and likely the man who is slow in paying taxes would be among the first to complain. Taxes in essence, are not only public business but are really everybody's business.

Some taxing units are more strict with the delinquent taxpayer than other units. For some states a scale of graduated penalties is in effect. This system has been in force for years and has been effective. After some months, moreover, the property involved in delinquent taxes may be sold at public sale and the proceeds applied to the taxes.

Public notices, or legal advertising, are used in the local newspaper to remind taxpayers of their impending obligations. This makes the tax business one of information, as well as one of official record. But all across the country the bona fide newspaper is an effective medium for this and hundreds of other purposes, as provided under the public notice laws.

State Liquor Board Lists Permit Openings for County

Pickaway County has several openings for various types of consumption and sale permits as allowed by the Ohio Department of Liquor Control.

The Liquor Board has released a list which shows the number of each of seven types of permits outstanding in the incorporated and unincorporated areas of each county, the number allowed under statutory and Board of Liquor Control quotas (based on the 1960 Federal census) and the number of new permits that can be issued.

The seven types permits are: C-1—sale of low-power beer for consumption off premises; C-2—sale of high power beer, wine and bottled cocktails for consumption off premises.

D-1—sale of low-power beer for consumption on and off premises; D-2—sale of high-power beer, wine and bottled cocktails for consumption on and off premises.

D-3—SALE of wine and spirituous liquor for consumption on premises; D-4—sale by private clubs to their own members for on premises consumption; D-5—sale of low-power and high power beer, wine and spirituous liquor for on premises consumption and beer, malt liquor and wine for off premises consumption. Also allows sales until 2:30 a. m.

According to the Liquor Board, Pickaway County has openings for C-1 and C-2 permits, Harrisburg included. Openings for one each of the two permits are at Circleville, Commercial Point, Darbyville, Harrisburg, Orient, Williamsport and unincorporated areas. Two C-1 openings are at Ashville and one C-2. New Holland has one C-1 opening.

No openings for either C-1 or C-2 permits are available at South Bloomfield and Tarlton. Glen Jack Heeter, owner of Jack's Tavern here, has applications on file for the C-1 and C-2 permits.

The county has 42 openings for D-1 and D-2 permits. Ashville has one D-1 and two D-2 respectively; Circleville, six and one; Commercial Point, one and one; Darbyville, one and one; New Holland, one and two; Orient, one and one; South Bloomfield, three and three; Tarlton, one and one; Williamsport, none and one; unincorporated areas, five and seven; Harrisburg, one and one.

The liquor board listing shows the county has a total of 31 openings for D-3, D-4 and D-5 openings. None of the three is available in Circleville.

One each of the D-3, D-4 and D-5 permits are available in Commercial Point, Darbyville and Orient. There is an opening for a D-4 in Ashville and one in South Bloomfield. There are openings in the balance of the county for 4 D-3 permits, seven D-4 and six D-5.

Harrisburg, New Holland and Williamsport are not applicable for the D-3, D-4 and D-5 permits.

OSU Researchers Receive Message from Unborn Baby

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University researchers are getting messages from unborn infants as long as six months before their birth.

The receiver is a tall, complex, exceedingly sensitive device for fetal electrocardiography.

The messages give the mother and her physician valuable information on the unborn child's position and condition and whether there is one baby, twins or (in one case thus far) triplets.

The key is the faint, rhythmic beat of the baby's heart, picked up by the sensitive machine, translated into a zig-zag pattern on a chart and interpreted by a highly-skilled technician.

Dr. John F. Ullery, chairman of obstetrics and gynecology, said he and his associates at OSU have recorded a fetal heartbeat as early as the first 15 or 16 weeks of pregnancy, long before a stethoscope could detect it. Others have detected a heartbeat even earlier.

The first of the machines was developed at Yale University, and Ohio State is one of the few other medical centers in the country to have one, Dr. Ullery said.

The electrocardiogram (called the "EKG" test) is taken only if there is some indication additional information will be valuable, Dr. Ullery said. Of the 332 patients (mothers) thus far given the EKG test, results from 282 have yielded important information.

In one instance, recalled Mrs. Betty McDaniels, the technician, a mother expecting twins was troubled by an excess of fluid and both babies were feared dead.

"We not only detected the two heartbeats," Mrs. McDaniels laughed, "she delivered the babies just a half-hour later."

Dr. Ullery cited other valuable hints gleaned from the EKG: "We are able to follow the rhythm of the fetal heartbeat and, by noting any changes in it, to tell if the baby is suffering any 'embarrassment' from pressure. We can tell whether it will be a head or breech delivery. We can detect congenital anomalies of the heart before birth and be set up to do something about them very quickly after the baby is delivered."

Demonstrating the EKG technique, Mrs. McDaniels wheeled an expectant mother on a hospital cot close to the smaller of the two OSU machines, which she calls "Quennie."

As she adjusts knobs and dials and talks knowledgeably about voltages, Mrs. McDaniels chats with the mothers and interests them in the small screen on which they will soon see the tracing of the infant's heartbeat.

Electrodes attached to the mother's abdomen by small suction cups pick up and record the voltage — five to fifteen millionths of a volt — of the fetal heartbeat. The procedure is completely painless to the mother.

A grant from the Central Ohio Heart Association helps sponsor the research and studies to find additional use of the EKG have been stated. These will include the effects of anesthetics of the use of forceps, of long hard labor. They have devised a special type of electrode to attach to the scalp of the baby while it is actually moving through the birth canal. Dr. Ullery said: "We hope to contribute important data on increasing fetal salvage, on preventing birth injuries and on earlier diagnosis of heart defects."

Wealthy Dog Dies; U.S. To Get Estate

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Blackie, Toledo's wealthiest dog, is dead. The 9-year-old German Shepherd, who inherited $50,000 from the estate of her master, Thomas J. Langdon, died Friday night.

Langdon died Jan. 12, 1959, leaving a will which said his estate should be used to care for his pet. At the dog's death, Langdon stipulated that the estate—now valued at $39,788—be turned over to the federal government.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The new speaks, but the old is with us. President Kennedy fried a lot of fish with his state of the Union Message to Congress. But in some ways it sounded like a record eight years old.

Kennedy gave a sense of action by promising it. But that's the last message of its kind this year in which he can simply promise action. From now on, in messages proposing specific programs, he must act.

He indicted President Dwight D. Eisenhower's administration—without saying it in so many words—with his gloomy picture of the situation he inherited at home and abroad.

This somber outlook provides an air of urgency for what he will now have to ask Congress to approve. It's a good weapon to induce action but whether it convinced Congress is yet to be seen.

There is also political benefit in describing domestic and foreign affairs in a dim light. The Kennedy administration thus puts itself in a position to take credit for any improvement.

This is just about what Eisenhower did when he took office eight years ago in describing the problems he inherited from the Truman administration.

Some of Kennedy's words — "I speak today in an hour of national peril" and "the outcome is by no means certain" and "the present state of our economy is disturbing" — were in strange contrast with the almost sunny State of the Union Eisenhower saw in his message to Congress Jan. 12.

But more startling, in a way, are the similarities between the problems Kennedy saw in his first State of the Union message and the ones Eisenhower saw facing him in his first message to Congress on Feb. 2, 1953.

For Kennedy, intentionally or not, in effect was saying that his dilemmas now were dilemmas which Eisenhower said confronted him, promised to solve, but didn't.

Take the two men on foreign affairs:

Eight years ago Eisenhower said, "This administration has begun the definition of a new positive foreign policy."

Red Paper Urges 'Speaking Mind'

MOSCOW (AP) — Students at Soviet technical schools are so afraid they will lose their scholarships that they never question what their teachers say, Komsomol Pravda declared today.

The result is that no one ever speaks his mind, declared the Soviet youth newspaper. The principal replies of the culprits were "You are right, Nikita Sergeievich."

Kinkade's car hit and killed Misses Margaret and Helen Duer last July as the sisters were about to board a bus on Ohio 18 near North Jackson.

Common Pleas Judge Frank Battisti withheld sentencing Monday pending a motion for a new trial or probation. Kinkade, tried as an adult, could be sentenced to prison for an indeterminate term.

Kennedy Monday: "We must re-examine and revise our whole arsenal of tools" in dealing with other nations.

Eisenhower: "Our policy will be designed to foster the advent of practical unity in Western Europe."

Kennedy: "The unity of NATO has been weakened by economic rivalry and partially eroded by national interest."

Eight years ago Eisenhower said, "The policy we pursue will recognize the truth that no single country, even one so powerful as ours, can alone defend the liberty of all nations threatened by Communist aggression."

Kennedy: "No Atlantic power can meet on its own the mutual problems now facing us in defense, foreign aid, monetary reserves, and a host of other areas."

Take the two men on the military:

Eight years ago Eisenhower said, "We must avoid waste and duplication in our armed services."

Kennedy said among other things that "faulty estimates and duplication (have all) made it difficult to assess accurately how adequate — or inadequate — our defenses really are."

And even on farming:

Eight years ago Eisenhower said, "One of the difficult problems which face the new administration is that of the slow, irregular decline of farm prices."

Kennedy: "Since 1951 farm income has been squeezed down by 25 per cent."

There was nothing new in the various steps and remedies Kennedy said he will propose soon. He had talked of them before, promised them before. To a number of them there is tough opposition in Congress.

He'll have to be judged years from now not only on his leadership in foreign affairs but on his leadership in getting a conservative, often balky, Congress to make his promises a reality.

Archbishop Urges Loans to Schools

CINCINNATI (AP)—Archbishop Karl J. Alter of Cincinnati says he thinks federal aid to education should be only low-interest loans plus aid for bus transportation, medical services and textbooks.

The archbishop told a lay organization Sunday night that he believes federal grants or subsidies unworkable and unnecessary.

He said, however, that any federal program to help education should include Roman Catholic parochial schools.

The loans, Archbishop Alter said, should be long-term and used in depressed areas alone.

He said, "State and local school districts can raise the money needed if reasonable economy is exercised."

'Abby' Is Celebrating Fifth Year as Columnist

ABBY AT HOME — Abigail Van Buren (seated), whose daily column, "Dear Abby," in The Herald, offers wise and witty counsel to readers, is Mrs. Morton Phillips in private life. She is pictured with her family (L to R): son, Eddie, 16; daughter, Jeanne, 19; and husband (business executive) — not to forget Pierre, her adored French poodle. Abby currently is celebrating her fifth anniversary as a columnist.

When "Dear Abby" tells worried women the ingredients necessary to a happy marriage, she knows whereof she speaks.

Abigail Van Buren, whose column appears in The Herald, currently is celebrating her fifth anniversary as a columnist. But as Mrs. Morton Phillips in private life, she lives with her businessman husband and two children, Jeanne, 19, and Eddie, 16, in Bel Air home into which the family recently moved.

The move in itself reveals a facet of Abby's sparkling, positive personality. For years the Phillipses had lived in San Francisco, a place they all loved, but ultimately Morton's business interests required him to establish residence in Los Angeles.

And how did Abby react to the move?

"Wherever my husband goes, I go," she said. "I'm married to a man, not a city".

Abby, who has gray-green eyes and a bright, elfin face framed in dark hair, doesn't look old enough to have a grown daughter. Jeanne, a freshman at the University of Colorado at Boulder, is proud of her petite mother's looks.

"When 'Mom' visits me at college," Jeanne grinned, "you should see the boys hang out the dormitory windows and whistle when she walks by".

Abby and Jeanne bear a striking resemblance to each other, a fact which both of them regard as a compliment. When anyone comments on their look-alike quality, they promptly chorus in unison—"Thank you".

Inevitably, Jeanne is asked if she follows her mother's advice. "Of course I do," she said. "But let me add that she has the good sense not to offer advice unless I ask for it. Then I always follow it."

Good sense is Abby's stock in trade, plus a happy aptitude for turning a phrase. She takes her responsibility very seriously, despite the brusque and often humorous tone of her replies.

"I try not to be dull," said Abby. "I write so people will enjoy reading me, but that doesn't alter the basic seriousness of most people's problems, or my solutions to them."

Abby works eight to 10 hours each day, going over the hundreds of letters she gets from readers. She has a staff of secretaries to help her, but manages to see "every scrap of mail that comes in".

Though in 5 years, Abby has become tops in her profession, she still regards it as a "hobby".

"My real job has always been my home and family," she said. "They come first. If the column interfered with them, I wouldn't do it."

Abby agrees that everyone has problems, including herself. But who is the "Dear Abby" who helps her solve hers? "My husband," she smiled. "The most wonderful man in the world".

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Mother Her, Lady!

DEAR ABBY: I have a young neighbor who comes over almost every day. She keeps me from my work. She says I remind her of her mother, who recently passed away. She has a young child and is expecting another. I feel sorry for her.

There are many young neighbors near us, but she doesn't bother with them. How can I tell her not to come so often and stay so long?

OFF MY SCHEDULE
DEAR OFF: You can't—without discouraging her entirely. Be grateful that you are able to bring so much comfort to one so desperately in need of it. There are worse things than being kept from one's work, namely—finding yourself neither wanted, needed, nor essential to the happiness of another.

DEAR ABBY: I am a piano teacher. I could make a better living doing something else, but I love music and want to teach others to love and appreciate it, too.

I have 22 students. Eight of them have been coming for their lessons week after week without having practiced one note. (How do they think they can fool a teacher?)

When I telephone their mothers, I am told, "Johnny had basketball practice every evening," or, "Susie has been very busy with other activities."

I have threatened to drop these students unless they show more interest, but their parents plead with me to keep them. Should I drop them? My blood pressure is going up.

MUSIC TEACHER
DEAR TEACHER: Drop them, and your blood pressure will probably drop, too.

DEAR ABBY: Recently an aunt of mine died. She was 56 years old and never married. The family wants to put "MISS" in front of her name on the stone.

I am sure she wouldn't want it that way. Don't you think just her first and last name is all that is necessary? Please answer in the paper because those people never believe a thing unless they see it in black and white.

SHIRTTAIL RELATIVE
DEAR SHIRTTAIL: Her first and last name only is proper.

CONFIDENTIAL TO KANSAS BACHELOR: Making a marriage work is like running a farm. You have to start all over again every morning.

"What's your problem?" For a personal reply from Abby, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Old-fashioned succotash takes on new ways. Cook, drain and chill a package of the frozen vegetables mix with a tangy French dressing and serve on salad greens. Good with roast pork.

New Leaders Get Nod as Top Ohio Basketball Teams

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The races for the top spots in Ohio's high school basketball scrap were wide open today as both state

Wilmington and Hillsboro of the South Central Ohio League are among the Class AA rated teams of the state. Wilmington holds first place in the SCO with an undefeated record and Hillsboro is high in the standings.

champions and Associated Press poll leaders went down to defeat last week.

Dayton Roosevelt's 37 - game winning streak foundered Friday in a double overtime 85-83 loss to Hamilton Garfield, while Salem Local's 37-game victory string was halted 92-82 by Belle Center as Dick Ricketts scored 44 points.

Fifty-two sports editors immediately voted Hamilton Garfield to the top spot in Class AA, trading positions with Roosevelt. Most of the ballots were mailed before Garfield ran into a stunning upset, 72-51, at the hands of Cincinnati Taft Saturday night. Roosevelt came right back to wreck Springfield South by 88-45 Saturday.

Ayersville of Defiance, sporting a 16-game winning streak, moved into the top rating in Class A. The 1957 state Class A champs drew 14 first place votes, far ahead of their closest competitors, and outranked Salem Local by 105 poll points on the 10-9-8-etc. voting basis.

Toledo Libbey dropped out of the Class AA Top Ten, unbeaten Cleveland West Tech, moving in. Two changes popped up in Class A as once-beaten Dixie and twice-beaten Wakeman Western Reserve surrendered their berths to Belle Center and unbeaten Portsmouth East.

From here and there: Cincinnati Taft had dropped two of eight games before tagging Hamilton Garfield in the big one. Belle Center's lone loss was to Indian Lake, a team Salem Local noted about by four points.

The toll will be terrific in Class A this week. Leading Ayersville (16-0) goes against third-ranked

Three County Teams Rated In Class A

Logan Elm, Walnut and Ashville of Pickaway County all received ratings in the weekly selection of top Class A Basketball teams in the state.

Logan Elm, leading the Pickaway County League with a 6-0 record, stands 12-2 overall. Walnut and Ashville both are 4-1 in the league.

Logan Elm has only one more league game, a February 10 battle at Williamsport.

Ashville and Walnut meet Friday at Walnut for a traditional battle. Each team has two games in the Pickaway Circuit, including Friday night's test.

128 Pro Golfers Vie for $50,000

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, who launched his great 1960 campaign here, leads a small army of golfers Wednesday into the 90-hole, $50,000 Palm Springs Classic.

A picked field of 128 professionals, each accompanied by three amateurs, for a total of 512 players, spreads out over the vast desert country on four courses for the first four rounds. The final round of the second annual classic will be played Sunday on a fifth course.

Bermuda Dunes, Indian Wells, Thunderbird and Eldorado are the sites of the first four rounds of pro-amateur competition. Tamarisk Country Club, the official headquarters of the tournament, is the setting for the windup with the low 60 professionals competing.

Stilt Boosts Lead In Pro Cage Loop

NEW YORK (AP) — Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, Philadelphia's prolific point-maker, has ballooned his lead over runner-up Elgin Baylor to 115 points in the National Basketball Association scoring race.

The Warriors' tall star has scored 1,926 points in 52 games, according to league statistics released today, and is averaging 37.0 points a game. Baylor has tallied 1,811 for a 34.8 mark.

Injured Oscar Robertson holds third place with 1,499 points and a 30.0 average, but teammate Jack Twyman, in fourth place, is closing fast with 1,481 and a 25.5 average.

Ohio State's Depth Puzzles Cage Opponents

Foe Could Stop Lucas, But Not Entire Team, All Deadly Scorers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS College basketball coaches usually can come up with ways and means of stopping one big star, but what are you going to do about a whole team of them?

That's the dilemma faced by Ohio State's rivals. Chances are they could devise a defense to stop tall Jerry Lucas, just as Minnesota stalled Indiana's big Walt Bellamy Monday night. But that still would leave four teammates, plus some subs, to be accounted for.

While Indiana, Kentucky and Louisville, all highly regarded teams, were going down, Lucas and his Buckeye teammates went rocking along to their 15th victory of the season and their 20th straight over a two-year span. Wisconsin was the victim, 100-68.

The measure of Ohio State's all-around skill was reflected in a 50.7 per cent shooting average for the team—39 field goals on 77 attempts. Lucas made 19 points, Larry Siegfried 18, John Havlicek 15 and Mel Nowell 14. Even when Ohio Coach Fred Taylor benched his regulars late in the first half and again with nine minutes to go in the second Wisconsin could not gain.

Jerry's 1960 Olympic teammate, Bellamy, didn't get the same kind of help as Minnesota, trailing 37-33 at half time, produced a collapsing defense in the second half and won out 66-58. Bellamy did a great rebounding job, but the Hoosiers couldn't get the ball to him often enough on offense and he scored only 15 points.

Illinois, a Big Ten team that follows the theory of trying to outrun and outshoot the opposition, chalked up its second conference victory 93-92 over Michigan State on Bill Small's basket with 21 seconds to go.

Miami of Florida checked Louisville, ranked seventh nationally in the current poll, 71-69 in a thriller, coming from nine points behind to win on Bruce Applegate last-moment shot. Georgia Tech upset Kentucky 62-60 and Kansas State gained a tie with Kansas for the Big Eight Conference lead with a 72-70 decision over Iowa State.

Georgia Tech's Roger Kaiser put on a tremendous one-man show as he led the Engineers to their first conference victory and virtually wrecked Kentucky's hope of winning the SEC title. Held to one field goal in the first half, Kaiser scored 18 points in the second half and capped the climax with a leaping one-hand shot for the winning basket.

Kansas State, ranked No. 10 nationally, also gained a last-gasp decision, winning on Al Peithman's 25-foot jump shot with 26 seconds to go. The only other top ten team in action Monday night, St. John's (N.Y.) had to come from far back early in the game but gained an 84-75 decision over Creighton without too much difficulty.

In other major conference games, Florida won its fifth straight in the Southeastern — a record for the school — by beating Alabama 52-50; West Virginia wore down Furman in a high-scoring Southern Conference affair to gain a 96-87 decision and Richmond trimmed Davidson 83-78 in another Southern Conference game.

NEW YORK (AP) — Gary Gubner, a 255-pound 18-year-old New York University freshman, may be the next of America's wonder weightmen to throw the shot 60 feet.

Gubner, facing his second major indoor test of the season, threw the 16-pound iron ball 58 feet, 4 inches at the Boston AA games last week.

No freshman ever had equalled the performance with the single exception of Southern California's Dallas Long.

Gubner isn't bragging about something he hasn't achieved yet but he has set his sights on a 60-plus toss to join the select company of Parry O'Brien, Long, Dave Davis, Ken Bantum and Co.

St. Bonaventure and Bradley, due to settle their second-place argument in a head-to-head meeting in New York's Madison Square Garden Thursday, continued their close race for the runner-up spot.

St. Bonaventure received 22 second-place votes and nine for third to collect 305 points. Bradley polled 281 points with 11 votes for second and 22 for third.

Bucks Chalk 20th Victory; OU Wins in Triple Overtime

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Match them against tough Big Ten competition or classy independents, play them at home or away, and you get the same result 20 straight times over a two-season span.

Monday night it was no different—Ohio State's basketball team again, their 15th straight this season—as the Badgers of Wisconsin bowed 100-68.

And once again it was All-America Jerry Lucas leading the Ohio State band in a frenzied version of "I've Got the World on a String."

One string was broken, however, when Lucas missed a foul shot early in the second half and his consecutive free throw hits stopped at 27, two short of the Big Ten record and matching teammate Larry Siegfried's skein ended last week.

Big Luke garnered 19 points in leading the Buckeye attack. Siegfried and John Havlicek were right behind with 18 and 16, respectively. Mel Nowell added 14, Richie Hoyt 11.

All the regulars were pulled from the Badger floor with five minutes left in the first half and Ohio leading 43-20. By intermission the Bucks had built up a 51-26 advantage.

Ohio State continued to widen the margin in the second half. Coach Fred Taylor pulled out his regulars again for good with nine minutes to play and the Buckeyes in front 82-47.

Meanwhile, back at the ranch in Ohio, the Bobcats of Ohio U. were having a tough time of it subduing Kent State in a Mid-American Conference clash. It took three overtimes, but subdue the Golden Flashes they did, 89-85, Ohio U.'s second "extra inning" win in a row.

The Bobcats, undefeated in seven conference games, were led by Capt. Bunk Adams with 34 points, eight of them coming in the third overtime to put victory out of reach for Kent. Pete Baltic also got 34 in a losing cause.

In other Ohio college tilts, Findlay had an easy time in winning its first Mid-Ohio League tilt in six tries, 74-56 over Ashland; a scoring duel between Norris Smith of Cedarville, who got 31 points, and Skip Griest of Roberts Wesleyan, who made 32, highlighted the Yellow Jackets' 94-85 victory over their North Chili, N.Y., foes; Kenyon used its regulars only 23 minutes in swamping Rensselaer of Troy, N.Y., 75-45; and Loyola of Chicago almost blew a 24-point second-half lead but hung on for a 74-69 triumph over Baldwin-Wallace.

BASEBALL IS THEIR BIZ—Three of the top figures in baseball get together in Chicago where they are working as consultants for a sports goods manufacturer, and discuss gold and silver glove awards to be presented to the best fielders in the majors and minors. The three are (from left) Roy Sievers, White Sox; Ken Boyer, Cards; Ed Matthews, Braves.

THE BEAVER

IT'S THE LARGEST RODENT AND 15 THE TRAPPER'S PRIDE AND JOY WITH PELTS BRINGING AS MUCH AS $20. AN AQUATIC, GRAWLING ANIMAL ABOUT FOUR FEET LONG, MUCH OF IT TAIL, IT WEIGHS BETWEEN 35 AND 100 POUNDS.

THEY STORE UP FOOD FOR WINTER BELOW ICE LEVEL, STAY IN THEIR "HOLE" MOST OF THE TIME EXCEPT TO COME OUT AND CUT FRESH FOOD.

THE BEAVER HAT, MARK OF THE WELL-DESIGNED MAN, MAKES UP PART OF "UNCLE SAM'S" WELL-KNOWN CHAUCER. IT'S NOW MADE OF SILK, NOT BEAVER.

Maris Given Salary Hike Despite Slump

NEW YORK (AP)—The case of Roger Maris is a puzzle. He hits 39 homers, drives in 112 runs, wins the Most Valuable Player award and what happens? Everybody asks, "Why did you slump?"

Maris was questioned about his second-half slump Monday when he signed his contract with the New York Yankees for an estimated $33,000 salary. The guesses were that he got $21,000 last year.

"Estimated," you ask? Right. This is the informed guess of the baseball writers. Nobody will know the official figures except Maris, the Yanks — and the Internal Revenue Service next year.

Maybe Roger will tell the Mrs. He wouldn't even hint to the writers. "If anybody asks me how much I'm going to get, they won't find out," he said at the opening of the news conference.

Now, about the slump. Despite the homers, RBI and the MVP award, the figures do not lie. On July 20, Maris had hit 31 home runs in 83 games. At the end of the season he had hit only eight more in 53 games.

Maris had no alibi although he could have pointed to the rib injury that kept him out of the lineup from Aug. 14 to 31, except for a pinch-hitting appearance. In 1959 an appendectomy put him on the shelf and resulted in another tailspin at Kansas City.

"I've got my own theory," he said and then clammed up, except to add that "when a hitter goes sour there is not much he can do."

Shareholders

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Robert O. Allen told officers he had an excuse for stealing a bottle of scotch from a Tucson drug store.

Allen, 54, was quoted as saying: "Things were put on earth to be divided equally and I was just taking my share."

Cleveland West Side Rail Station To Close

CLEVELAND (AP) — After the New York Central's Ohio State Limited pulls out of Linndale Wednesday evening no more trains will stop at the West Side station that once handled up to 49 trains a day. Before diesels, trains used to stop there to switch from steam to electric locomotives for the run into Cleveland Union Terminal.

Central officials told the Utilities Commission the railroad could save $31,000 a year by closing the station and the PUCO granted permission Monday.

Manager Hails Pirates, Voted Team of Year

PITTSBURGH (AP) — "Anytime a person is connected with a baseball club so highly recognized it is a truly great honor."

Manager Danny Murtaugh made that comment Monday night upon learning his Pittsburgh Pirates had been named the Team of the Year for 1960 by sports writers and broadcasters participating in the annual Associated Press year-end poll.

The Pirates, who won the National League pennant and then defeated the New York Yankees in the World Series, received 289 points in the voting. The Philadelphia Eagles, National Football League champions, placed second with 130 points. The U.S. Olympic hockey team was third with 91 points.

Murtaugh, the National League Manager of the Year, said he was thrilled at the Pirates' latest honor and added: "If I had voted, I would have had to cast my ballot for the Pirates, also."

Murtaugh said the reason for his vote would have been the late-inning rallies the Pirates staged to win many games which established them as a "truly remarkable ball club."

The smiling Irishman, who lives in Chester, Pa., near Philadelphia, said he was happy about the Eagles finishing second and also noted their come-from-behind finishes during the past season.

"I'm an Eagle fan," Murtaugh said. "It is amazing how the Eagles were to football what we were to baseball. It is quite an honor for Pennsylvania to be represented by two teams such as the Eagles and the Pirates."

DiSalle Readies His Pet Bills For Legislature

DiSalle held a news conference before the conflict-of-interest message was delivered to the legislators. Mechem and Cloud held one afterward.

During the postsession conference, Cloud expressed some unhappiness with legislators — and newsmen—who complain that the present session is slow-moving. He said a slow pace in the first six weeks is customary.

"I don't know of any way to avoid it," he remarked. "We try to expedite things, but we spend about six weeks talking to groups who want to bring in legislative programs—getting them straightened out."

Cloud also told newsmen that any action on a series of pending bills which would extend the normal 26-week unemployment benefit period to 39 weeks likely will be delayed two weeks or more. He said President Kennedy's state of the union speech Monday indicated emergency action is planned on the federal level.

Naturally, Cloud said, the Ohio House intends to see what the federal government does before taking any action.

A newsmen pointed out the president had asserted emergency aid for the jobless will be on a self-sustaining basis. Cloud agreed with Gov. DiSalle that this probably means an increase in the tax paid by employers.

Only 25 more bills came into the General Assembly Monday night. The combined total now stands at 338 in both houses. Among measures introduced Monday night were bills to:

Make Great Lakes seamen eligible for off-season jobless pay. Give municipal and county courts exclusive original jurisdiction in civil actions for recovery of up to $1,000.

Permit full-time deputy registrars of motor vehicles to sell watercraft licenses. Abolish the new Department of watercraft licenses.

Abolish the new Department of Personnel, established in 1959, and revert to the old State Civil Service Commission. Require boards of election to issue cards to registered voters.

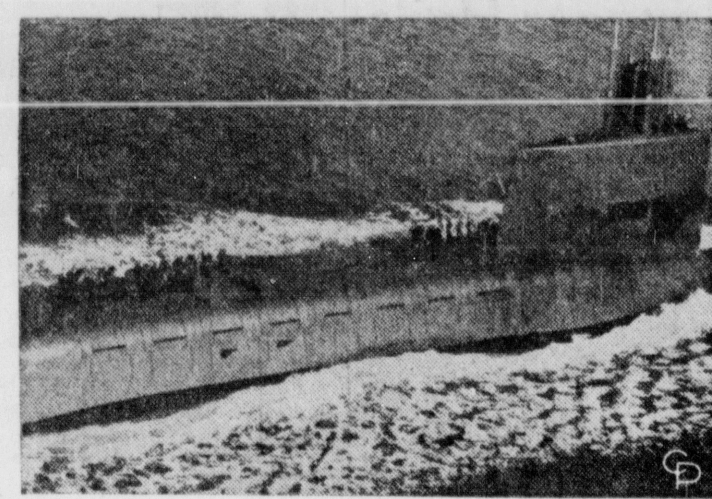

Establish a sequentennial commission for the War of 1812. Relieve relatives of all responsibility for the support of inmates in state mental institutions.

Prohibit the state Department of Liquor Control from establishing drive-in stores.

Prohibit the sale of liquor in bottles of less than one pint except on special order. The Senate agreed, with only one dissenting vote, to ask the attorney general for an opinion on the validity of two constitutional amendments adopted by Ohio voters in 1959. The one principally in question is an amendment which permits more than the customary three judges on a district court of appeals. The resolution questions the technical procedure followed by clerks in the two houses before the amendment went to the voters.

The House paid tribute to the late Ellis B. Hutton, former superintendent of Chillicothe schools, in a resolution. Another resolution congratulated Ohio State University and Olympic track coach Larry Snyder and Ohio athletes for their accomplishments in the 1960 Olympic Games.

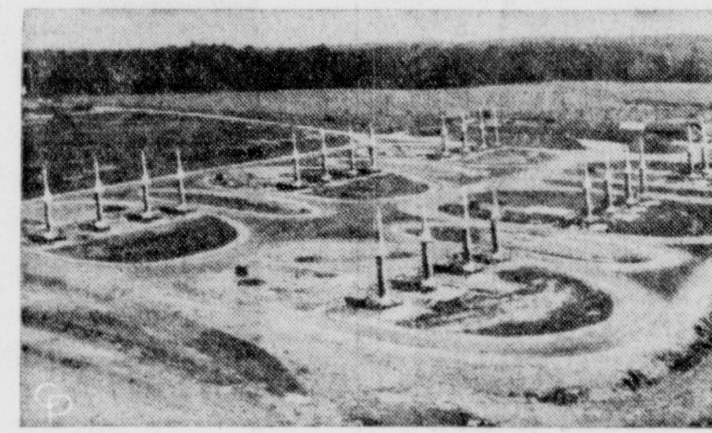

Still another sports resolution contratulated Ohio State's National Collegiate Athletic Association

The Rev. Fruehling Named Heart Fund Campaign Head

The Rev. R. Dale Fruehling will be chairman of the 1961 Heart Fund campaign here, it was announced today by the Pickaway County Chapter of the Central Ohio Heart Association.

The month-long drive which begins throughout the nation tomorrow will reach its high point on Heart Sunday, February 26, when hundreds of volunteers in the county will call on their neighbors for contributions.

"When heart disease claims the life of a friend or relative, the enormity of this problem comes into sharper focus for us," the Rev. Fruehling said in accepting the appointment. "And it is an enormous problem — each year more than half of all deaths in our state and nation are caused by heart and blood vessel disease."

"Heart diseases can strike anyone — anywhere, anytime. Our contributions to the Heart Fund help combat these diseases by making possible the support of cardiovascular research in Central Ohio and aid scientists in clinics and university laboratories across the country."

Research, the newly appointed campaign chairman said, has top priority in the Heart Association's program and has been responsible for great progress in saving hearts through new methods of diagnosis, treatment and prevention.

THE COHA since 1950 has channeled one million dollars into research at Central Ohio institutions. This year, it awarded over $157,000 to support 27 research projects of responsible investigators, 3 fellowships and 8 scholarships.

Although great scientific advances have given Americans new hope that further controls and possible prevention of some heart and blood vessel diseases will be achieved within the next decade, deaths from cardiovascular disorders each year still exceed the inside No 6 ital Dr. Hedges. e total number of deaths from all other causes combined.

"The heart and blood vessel diseases are still the nation's No. 1 health enemy," he said. "I believe the residents of Pickaway County are fully aware of this fact and will give their full support to the 1961 Heart Fund drive."
